THE STORE THAT STAYS

AT no other season of the year is scientific tailoring put to so strong a test as with Spring and Summer clothes. If your cold weather clothes are not warm enough you put on a heavy overcoat.

But when the warmer days are here, and the overcoat is discarded, you look for lighter weight clothes---and the lighter they are, the greater your comfort.

But---and here is where the test comes: partly lined or totally unlined clothes are the greatest tax upon tailoring skill.

To hold their shape, such clothes must be of pure wool, hand-tailored in the vital parts, and skillfully put together with brains as well as thread and needle.

And last, but not least, the cloth must be shrunk "to the limit."

"JEHOVAH IS MY SHEPHERD"

Psalm 23--April 13.

The Heavenly Shepherd's Interest in His Flock--His Sheep Shall Not Lack--He Gives Them Rest--He Feeds Them--He Refreshes Them With the Water of Life--He Restoreth My Soul--He Leadeth Me.

"Jehovah is my Shepherd."--Psalm 23.

ONLY God's people, in covenant relationship with Him, properly appreciate this Psalm and apply its gracious sentiments to themselves. The Psalmist David could do this, because he belonged to the favored nation taken into covenant relationship with God at Mount Sinai. Of those Jews who did their best to keep the Law, David evidently was one; for the Lord declared him "a man after His own heart." When David made failures, he confessed them, repented, received his punishment and rejoiced in restoration to Divine favor, striving thereafter the more to maintain his fellowship with God.

Jesus and His Church, however, are more particularly the sheep of Jehovah's flock than were the Jews; for the relationship of the Jews was through Moses, while that of the Church is through Christ and the superior Covenant centered in Him. Whoever would be the Lord's sheep must make this Covenant of Sacrifice (Psalm 50:5). Only through Christ can we enter the higher sheepfold. Once having entered, we thereafter have God's Message, saying, "All things are yours; for ye are Christ's, and Christ is God's."

All Wants Abundantly Supplied.
The Lord's sheep are New Creatures, spirit beings, temporarily dwelling in the flesh, but waiting for their change, to be completed in the First Resurrection. The Lord's blessings to Natural Israel were earthly; His blessings to Spiritual Israel are spiritual favors. "No good thing will He withhold" from these---yes, even chastisements and sorrowful experiences necessary for spiritual development.

As the Lord's sheep we shall be provided with green pastures and cool, refreshing water. Moreover, we shall have the peace of God, as implied in the suggestion that the sheep lie down in the green pastures. But alas! Some sheep wander off, goatlike, into the desert, attempting to feed themselves on the indigestible things of this life, on which no spiritual nature can thrive.

Yet even such straying sheep the Shepherd will not leave, but goes after them. With His rod He beats off the wolves; and with His staff He curefully assists the entangled sheep out from amongst the snares of this life, the deceitfulness of riches and the besetments of sin and Satan. Many of the Lord's flock thus can sing, "He restoreth my soul," brings me hither to appreciate how much better His provision than anything I could provide.

The Valley of Death's Shadow.
Only Adam was ever on the mountain-top of life. He lost his footing there, and gradually descended into this great Valley of the Shadow of Death. Here all his children were born. We are dying daily, surrounded by dying conditions. But the New Day is about to dawn. Then the whole world will begin to emerge from this Valley of Death's Shadow. For a thousand years they will be rising to the heights of human perfection from which Adam fell, and to which the right to return is secured by Jesus' death.

The Lord's people have an especially prepared table, where they may partake even in the presence of their enemies. How true it is that even when misunderstood, misrepresented, defamed and opposed, God's consecrated people are still privileged to feast on the Divine promises, assurances of favor, etc.

Another evidence that this Psalm belongs especially to the Church is the statement, "Thou anointest my Head with oil." The holy anointing oil used on Israel's priests and kings typified the Holy Spirit, which came upon the Church representatively in Jesus and has come down over all the members of Christ's Body.

Psalm 133:2.
"My cup runneth over." In Scripture the word cup represents a draft, sometimes sweet, sometimes bitter, sometimes both. The Lord's Cup signifies bitter experiences in the present time. Jesus said, "The Cup which My Father hath poured, shall I not drink it?" This Cup He offered to His disciples; and in becoming such, we propose to share it with Him, symbolically represented in the Communion Cup.

It is sweet to participate in the sufferings of Christ, in any sacrifices or services for Him and His Cause. But He promises that the Cup of new wine in the Kingdom shall more than compensate for any bitterness of the present time. Our Cup is full, but we would not wish it one drop less.

How precious the thought that God's goodness and mercy follow all who are truly His in Christ! At our Lord's Second Coming, with their glorious change these shall enter the Father's House on the spirit plane---the everlasting portion of God's elect Church.

The Psalmist.
